

Tea

Masala Chai

Masala chai, meaning "spiced tea" in Hindu, is a popular beverage in India that is made by brewing black tea with aromatic spices, sugar, and milk.

Served hot.

Thai Milk Tea

Also known as "Cha Yen" in Thai, this tea is a sweet, creamy, and flavorful iced milk tea, made from strongly brewed black tea (often a blend of Ceylon or locally grown Assam tea, known as "bai miang") and sweetened with milk. Served cold.

Kenyan Black Tea

Known for its robust and malty flavor, featuring a mahogany color, is grown in the high-altitude regions of Kenya, and is often used as both a breakfast tea or a base for blends. Served hot.

Tea

Matcha Tea

Matcha is a powdered form of Japanese green tea, grown in shade to keep their leaves soft and to create a vibrant green, frothy beverage. Matcha is known for its unique taste and health benefits. Served hot.

Genmai-cha Tea

Genmaicha, meaning "brown rice tea" in Japanese, is a popular Japanese green tea blend made by combining green tea leaves (sencha) with roasted brown rice, resulting in a unique, nutty, and slightly sweet flavor. Served hot.

Milk Oolong Tea

Milk Oolong tea, also known as "Jin Xuan", or "Golden Daylily", is a Taiwanese oolong tea that is renowned for its silky, buttery texture and smooth flavor with light floral notes.

Non dairy. Served hot.

Tea Around the World

Thursday, April 3, 2025
Engineering Upper Atrium
10:30 am-2:30 pm

Global Engineers

Tea

Rooibos Tea

Rooibos, also known as “red bush tea”, is a naturally caffeine-free herbal tea made from the leaves and stems of the Aspalathus linearis plant, which is native to South Africa, and also known for its sweet, woody, fragrant, and earthy notes, with a hint of vanilla.

Served hot.

Yerba Mate

Yerba Mate, an herbal tea, is a traditional drink in Latin and South America that is made by steeping dried leaves from the yerba mate plant in hot water. Has strong caffeine. Served cold or hot.

Tea

Earl Grey Tea

One of the most famous teas in the world, this tea hails from Britain. Earl grey tea is a black tea base flavored with oil from the rind of bergamot orange, a type of citrus fruit whose flavor is a cross between an orange and a lemon with hints of grapefruit and lime. Served hot.

Ceylon Tea with Jaggery

Ceylon tea with jaggery is a traditional tea from Sri Lanka, which involves brewing black tea with jaggery (a natural sweetener derivation of palm sap) for a distinct, sweet, earthy flavor. Served hot.

Sweeteners

Honey

Agave Syrup

Biscotti

Matcha

Chocolate Chip Cardamom Spice

